Holy god

As we leave this space, let us take some of the stillness with us

As we leave this space, help us to look for signs of life in the wilderness

As we leave this space, help us to live with the hope that one day the desert will bloom

And as we leave this space, may we take the love of Christ into a parched and thirsty land
